Global Travel Risk Management Conference Sept 30 – Oct 1 Roundtable Discussion

It's common place for corporations to have Risk Management and Duty of Care programs in place to assist traveling employees while conducting company business. The purposes of these programs are to:

1) Aid and Assist Travelers
2) Prevent and Avoid Problem Situations
3) Track and Communicate with Travelers in Crisis Situations
4) Manage Corporate Risk

We live in a world where innovation is driving new and easy to use web applications for the procurement of travel; unfortunately this can present challenges with tracking and communicating with travelers. In this roundtable discussion join Tom Tulloch and Lachlan McEwen and explore what technology is now widely available to corporations to help fulfill the Duty of Care and Risk Management program needs.

We will discuss best practices around:

1) Travel Policy Communication and Education
2) Traveler Alerts
3) Traveler Tracking
4) Risk Avoidance
5) Traveler Services
